Splendid Nights of Lanterns and Souls

Every year on the first Friday and Saturday night in June, the Tsuzawa Yotaka Andon Festival is held in Tsuzawa, Oyabe City to pray for peace, tranquility, and bountiful harvests of grains. Made up of dengaku andon lanterns, dashi float toppers, and hanging decorations, the yotaka can be as large as 6 m high and 10 m long. As dusk approaches on the day of the festival, the dengaku andon hanging from the eaves of homes are lit. With that signal, first children wearing spotted headbands and happi coats pull small andon, and they are followed by young adults drawing the large andon accompanied by drumming and shouts. The highlight of the festival is when andon coming from opposite directions meet and the leaders' shout at each other spiritedly, colliding in an attempt to destroy the opposite side's float topper and hanging decorations. The instant when the young people's bravery and energy collide, the spectators are also drawn into a world of tension and euphoria.
